

dream it.

Yesterday has vanished. Today is short-lived. The future... yours to mold and shape through today's media – done your way! Explore your dreams. Spend your tomorrows making your dreams come alive for your generation.

You can do it. We can help.

Who is out there speaking your language? Where can you go to talk about things that are on your mind – real issues – today's issues – things you deal with every single minute of every single day? Things that come crashing in around you when you least expect it.

So, why do religious people ignore them?

Real people – real problems – real answers.

Very little of that going on in today's religious media.

Jesus is real – but most of what you hear from religious media isn't – at least not to us. We won't settle for religion. That's how we know you and your friends won't settle. Religion can't help you or them. You know that. We know that.

We dream of making Jesus real to kids today and we won't stop until we do. We dream of a genuine voice to this generation, now! We are Generation NOW.

"Go you into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

OUR ISSION

We believe in the new breed of young people-You!-who dream of winning the world for Jesus through all kinds of broadcasting. We believe it's in your DNA and it's NOW your time to marry the dream with the technology.

Master's Media is committed to setting the pace in "hands-on" training for this generation in Christian broadcasting - your way.

Our mission is to reach you right where you live – in a culture that is exploding in social media as its primary form of community and relationship. Evangelism has changed. We are the new generation of evangelists and we know how to GO into all the world and preach the Gospel.

Master's Media means just that – a commission by the Master, Jesus, as stated in Mark 16:15 "And he said unto them, Go you into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

It starts with an idea. Not just a good idea...

But a God idea.

Every God idea needs a talented producer.

The producer is always the first person on a project and the last person to leave. In his or her mind, the God idea first begins the journey from imagination to reality.

The producer assembles the team, plans the shoot, and prepares all for the exciting road ahead.

"You don't take a photograph,

you make it."

Think about the most dynamic movies you've ever seen. Often, they are known not only for their actors or story line, but for their directors as well.

The Lord of the Rings movies ARE Peter Jackson, Avatar and Titanic ARE James Cameron, Buffy the Vampire Slayer and Firefly ARE Joss Whedon.

Between the director and producer, a talented team is assembled, including camera operators and audio technicians. Without the right shot or a properly placed microphone, the shoot is worthless and it becomes time to start over.

The director is essentially the brain of a show, telling all of the other parts what they should be doing and often how to do it. If you have ever dreamed of taking your vision and passion for God and sharing it through television or the silver screen, then Morningside Master's Media is where you belong. Here, students are taught the skills needed to be a successful director working for the Lord to bring the vision He has given you to the world.

It's all about the story.

A movie or show is kind of like a giant puzzle waiting to be put together before all is said and done. Editors, among other things, will put the puzzle together. They make a coherent story out of the raw mess, so that the audience sees the complete picture with all the pieces in the right place.

Not only does editing fix the mistakes made in filming, but they are often responsible for building the show from the ground up by reordering and rearranging the film so that the story can be better told. If an editor does their job right, viewers won't be able to tell there's been any editing at all. Editors know how to keep the message in focus!

Editing is a challenging position and here at Morningside Master's Media, we can help you rise to the challenge.

Experts debated the usefulness and staying power of the internet when it first emerged more than a decade ago. Today, few would argue that the technology has become deeply embedded in society – especially the NOW generation. The nation's youngest (those 23 and under) are the most technologically savvy and are the furthest along in their adoption of the internet along with all of its related devices and integrated tools.

The impact of these technologies on interpersonal relationships - a domain often called social networking – is rewiring the way young people meet, express themselves, and stay connected.

At Master's Media, we are embracing the technology to express the love of God to a generation who desperately need to hear it. We are leading the charge in outreach and evangelism and taking it right where they live.

We're not the future generation - we're the NOW generation - and we know how to reach out to our peers. Our "go ye" just became easier.

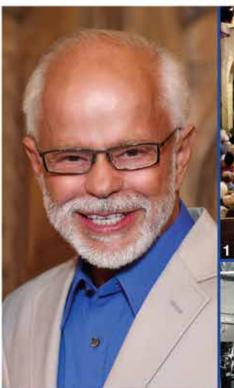

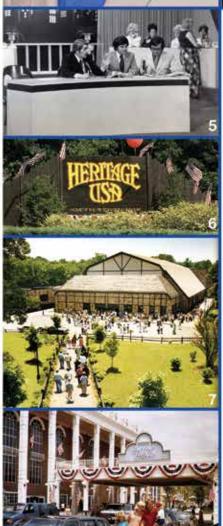

Jim Bakker Founder & Chancellor

Jim Bakker is a pioneer of Christian Television. From humble beginnings, he rose to build one of the largest ministries in the world.

As a young man, Jim was called to "make Jesus real" to the world. During the golden era of television, he was divinely inspired on what medium he could use to do just that. He dreamed of a night-time Christian talk show—one that could display the format and quality of The Tonight Show hosted (at that time) by Johnny Carson.

In 1966, his dream came true. While hosting a children's show on Pat Robertson's fledgling Christian station in Virginia, Jim became the co-founder and host for the first Christian talk show – "The 700 Club". Next, he co-founded TBN and then the PTL and Inspirational Television Networks.

Today, Jim hosts "The Jim Bakker Show" which is an hour-long daily broadcast seen throughout the United States, Canada, and the entire world through Direct TV, Dish Network and other worldwide satellites. His number one passion however, is to train the next generation of Christian television broadcasters by giving them the tools to dream and create media for their generation to continue in spreading the Gospel to all the world.

Jim's show is broadcast from a new Christian Retreat Center called "Morningside" just outside Branson, Missouri. This 700-acre property is a thriving Christian community that also serves as the backlot for "The Jim Bakker Show" and "Generation NOW", a syndicated television program produced solely by the Morningside Master's Media Students.

Lori Bakker Co-Founder & Vice-President

Lori Bakker, born Lori Beth Graham, was raised in a middle class church attending family in Phoenix, Arizona. By the age of 22, a life of partying, drugs, and rock n' roll that had begun during her early teen years had culminated in five abortions. By 1985, Lori had survived a ten-year marriage plagued by abuse and domestic violence.

On Easter Sunday, 1989, Lori made a life changing decision to attend Phoenix First Assembly of God. It was there that she accepted Jesus Christ as her personal Lord and Savior and stepped out on a journey of spiritual growth that began with the Master's Commission discipleship program. Lori served almost a decade with Master's Commission during its formative years.

In 1991, Lori received her ministerial credentials. It was this experience with the Master's Commission discipleship program that inspired her dream to train other young people in the Morningside Media's Master program.

National and international television audiences have embraced Lori through her appearances on programs that include Larry King Live, Good Morning America, The Today show, James Robison's Life Today and a host of other notable broadcasts.

Together, Jim and Lori established "The Jim Bakker Show" and continue to host a one-hour, daily TV program that is shown throughout the United States and around the world.

She also speaks to audiences globally with the refreshing candor that has come to characterize her ministry; encouraging them to become the people of destiny God has called them to be.

700-acre backlot

Morningside is a beautiful 700-acre campus of The Jim Bakker Show. The Jim Bakker Show is produced daily from Grace Street, an "Old World" styled television studio and backlot with functioning shops, restaurant, chapel, and youth center. Morningside is where the dream lives.

The beautiful two-mile long Peaceful Valley is the home of the new rustic Tabernacle which houses the brand new media production center for Generation NOW. It is also the recreational center, training facility, dorms and worship center for Morningside Master's Media.

master's media staff

Andrew Lietzen, President Alisha Lietzen, Dean of Students

Andrew started at a young age with a passion for media broadcasting. He has been making movies, directing, editing and producing since the age of 12. He is a John Brown University graduate with a B.S. in Digital Media Arts. Andrew is married to his high-school sweetheart, Alisha, and has two children, Hannah and Alex. Andrew's education, experience and skills are invaluable in media broadcasting. His passion for Master's Media is presenting students with the experience and knowledge to hone their skills through hands-on practical training. His eye for detail and spirit of excellence make him "one of the truly great editors of today" says Pastor Jim Bakker. His wife, Alisha, is the Dean of Students, overseeing admissions and the day-to-day operations of Master's Media.

Zach Drew, Director of Master's Media

Zach grew up right outside of Decatur, Illinois in a very blessed family that loved the lord. Like many others, he had his own plans for life, and travelled down a dark and dreary road most young people take these days, including experimentation of drugs and alcohol. Through a string of divine experiences, Zach returned to a radical, transforming life with Jesus and found a passion and a calling for all things media. Zach was in the first class of Morningside Master's Media, and was also the first full graduate of the program. Today, he serves as the Vice-President and Director of Master's Media in conjunction with being the Host of "Generation NOW" (the flagship program of Master's Media) and is a Co-Host of "The Jim Bakker Show."

Theron Ventura, Student Life Director

After graduating from Master's Commission in Cardiff, CA, Theron graduated Vanguard University in Costa Mesa, CA, Magna Cum Laude. While serving in multiple pastoral roles, he worked for a prestigious computer networking company in Palm Springs, CA, Computer Gallery. He and Lenora eventually moved to Springfield, MO where they became parents to Cole and Ben and where he became a District Manager for Frito-Lay covering two geographies in Northwest Arkansas and Southern Missouri. Only how God can do, all the elements of his life brought him to Morningside where he has served in dozens of capacities throughout the entire ministry including pastoral duties for the community, video traffic duties for network stations, Master's Media director, several production duties, and anything Pastor Jim asked him to do. He demonstrates that helping with anything at anytime is ministry if you faithfully serve.

Maricela Woodall, Professor of Producing

Since 2010, Maricela Woodall has continued to fulfill her passion to "change the face of Christian television." Maricela is a 4-year graduate of Master's Commission, first, as a student and then as staff. She is the daughter of Jim & Lori Bakker so she has literally grown up on the set where she learned all aspects of broadcasting. She is well traveled and experienced in missions and evangelistic outreach. Maricela offers a unique wealth of background experience to the teaching staff of Morningside's Master's Media.
